Club Volunteer

Join this organization of volunteers who want to be connected with the community needs that match their interests.

Make a difference on your lunch hour!

January 19th
11am-12:30pm
Room 1908
San Juan College

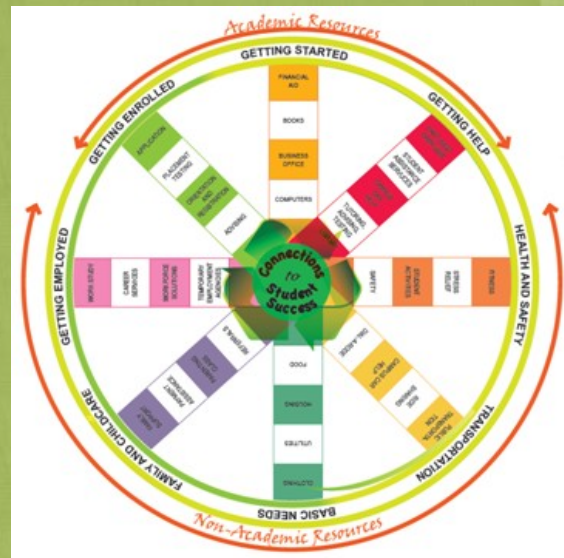

Join us on the 3rd Thursday of every month for camaraderie and “30 minute projects” to benefit our community. Also sign up to be included in our database of volunteers to help our community with short term projects. Call 566-3293 for more information!

’Twas the night before Christmas where are you
Everything is so quiet with so much to do
The stockings are tightly packed ready to go
They sit by the door needing a bow

The children were laughing and playing with cheer
While the parents baked cookies to deliver this year
While Mamma in her sweater and I in my hat
Had just taken the last batch to the cooling mat

Connections to Student Success

Training for Connections to Student Success Team Members will begin on December 7 for San Juan College staff. Connections is a referral program for San Juan College students to find resources both on and off campus to help them be successful in school. The resources may include things like childcare, transportation, tutoring, career services, parenting classes, housing assistance, and much more. The Team Members will be trained so they have access to the resources that can help San Juan College students succeed. If you have resources that may benefit our students, please contact Lucy Haber.

Annual Volunteer Recognition Banquet “Celebrating People In Action”

Date: April 19, 2012

Time: 4:00pm

Place: Henderson Fine
Arts Center

Theme: Superheroes

You will be receiving an email with information on how to nominate a volunteer in your organization. Please keep an eye out for this e-mail and don't miss this wonderful opportunity to recognize the volunteers that make your organization a success.

We are adding a new volunteer category: “Senior Volunteer of the Year.” This category will highlight the volunteers 65 and older that help in our community.

Although the theme is “Superheroes” we hope to really celebrate all of the heroes of our community-our volunteers! So, plan to join us on April 19th!

When out on the lawn arose such a clatter
There were 20 more people to help make more batter
Away to the door I flew like a flash
I welcomed them in and took out the trash

With all these people so lively and quick
I knew we would have enough to take to all the sick
The holidays aren't about push, rush and shove;
They're for friendship and sharing and family and love

New Website Features

Visit the San Juan
College Volunteer Center website:
www.sanjuancollege.edu/volunteercenter

- New updated look
- Easy to navigate around to the different pages
- New category listing that groups the agencies according to the interests of a volunteer
- Continuously updated web calendar with volunteer events so volunteers can easily sign up to help agencies. If you want your events added to the calendar, please email the information to volunteercenter@sanjuancollege.edu

As with most websites, ours is a work in progress. We love suggestions from you and feedback on how we can improve our communication to volunteers and the agencies in our community.

So take time this season to give of yourself
You'll find that you'll be a holiday elf
Know that you're special for all that you do
Volunteer this season – It's our wish to you
