Term Census date- The census date is a set by the college and typically marks the end of the add/drop period. On this day, the college takes a "snapshot" of all students' enrollment which becomes the "official enrollment" that is used for both state reporting and financial aid eligibility. If you are enrolled and attending less than full time as of census date, your aid will likely be less than what was reported to you in your initial award letter or email. This is because students are initially awarded based on the expectation of full-time enrollment. Then aid is then adjusted on census date to their actual enrollment.

For financial aid purposes, there are generally 4 enrollment levels:

- •Full-time (12 or more credits)
- •3/4-time (9 -11 credits)
- •1/2-time (6 8 credits)
- •Less than 1/2-time (1-5 credits)

Late Start Classes-Late-Start Classes are classes that begin after the starting date of a fall, spring, or summer semester. If you are enrolled in late-start classes, your financial aid will not disburse until classes begin. This means that if you have classes that start after the first fourteen days of class, your financial aid will not be disbursed for those classes until the after the date those classes begin. Your attendance in these classes affects your eligibility.

Additional Loan Information and terms:

Subsidized Stafford Loan: This loan is based on unmet need. The family financial information reported on the FAFSA determines eligibility for the subsidized loan. The federal government pays the Interest on these loans while the student is enrolled at least half-time (six credit hours) and during periods of deferment. Repayment begins six months after the student ceases to be enrolled at least half-time. Lifetime aggregate limit for dependent student is $31,000; $57,500 for Independent students.

Unsubsidized Stafford Loan: This loan is based on need. The student is charged interest from the time the loan is disbursed. The student may elect to pay the interest while in school or the student may choose to capitalize the interest. (Interest payments are added to the principal amount of the loan). Capitalizing interest will increase the amount the student is required to repay. Repayment begins six months after the student ceases to be enrolled at least half-time.

A note on loan disbursement: Federal regulations require multiple disbursements of Federal Stafford Loans. If you apply for a loan which covers both fall and spring semesters, proceeds will be sent for one-half of the amount in the fall semester and one-half in the spring semester. Fall, Spring, and Summer single semester loans will also be disbursed in two separate payments within the same semester. Also, for first time borrowers there is a 30-day delay from the first day of classes before you receive your first disbursement.

On the day of disbursement, the money will first filter through your account, paying off any amount that you owe the school with any remaining amount then being sent directly to the student.

Interest Rate and Origination Fee: For loans that disburse after June 30, 2017 and before July 1, 2018, loans will have an interest rate of 3.76%. Loans that disburse after September 30, 2017, origination fee will be charged at 1.069%.
